AN ALIBI OFFICE.

A Curious Institution Opened Up in Paris.

Novel ideas are being put into practice every day, and if rumor is to be believed the latest thing in original conceptions has assumed the form of an alibi office. What is an alibi office? The bewildered reader may be inclined to ask, says a Paris correspondent of the London Telegraph. Well, in this particular case it is an establishment which undertakes to post letters from any and every corner of the world. It is, in fact, a sort of philanthropic institution, devised for the benefit of persons who, while remaining quietly at home in a sort of incognito condition, can make believe that they are on a long tour. This is human vanity satisfied, and thus are the expenses of a regular journey saved. A man takes leave of his friends at the close of the season, with the announcement that his recreation will assume the form, for instance, of a run through Spain and Portugal; and at regular intervals follow letters from Madrid, Seville, Lisbon, Oporto, and so on, duly stamped and postmarked. The alleged promoters of the enterprise are represented as arguing that after all this pleases some people who do not care for the trouble and fatigue of traveling, but are eager to enjoy the prestige with which a grand tour will, as they fancy, invest them in the eyes of their friends. After all, this may be mere report, for the office is described as being a very discreet institution, having no outward and visible sign of existence.

THE BROWN-TAIL MOTH.

A Poisonous Pest of Massachusetts Towns.

Many residents of Somerville have been afflicted recently with a strange disease, which baffled the physicians, and for which no one could offer an explanation, says the Boston Transcript. They seemed to have been victims of ivy poisoning, the hands and arms reddening and swelling, but they had not touched any ivy. It is now definitely known that the trouble all came from the presence of that new pest, the brown-tail moth.

This discovery was made by the employees of the gypsy moth committee, who, to their sorrow, have found that to touch a brown tail moth is equivalent to taking a dose of poison. When the employees of the committee began their annual work of turning burials to see how many pupa had secreted themselves thereunder, they found in the places contiguous to Somerville a number of pupa of the brown-tailed moth. Grown careless by the innocent nature of the caterpillar, they plucked them off and destroyed them. Then the trouble began, and loud are the complaints of the men with poisoned hands and arms. The moths are now handled gingerly. The center of the gypsy moth pestilence has moved from the Malden-Medford district, where it originally developed, to the Saugus woods. It is estimated that the committee men are slaughtering 100,000 daily.

LINCOLN AND THE DANDY.

A Humorous Reminiscence of the Famous President.

In some gossip from the national capitol Henry L. Stoddard says: "Among the applicants for foreign missions in Washington recently was a New England man attired so faultlessly that he might have served for a fashion plate. He reminded the veteran Tom Donaldson of a story told of an Ohio dandy whom President Lincoln appointed as consul to a South American country. A wag met the new appointee on his way to the white house to thank the president. He was dressed in the most extravagant style. The wag horrified him by telling him that the country to which he was assigned was noted chiefly for the bugs that abounded there and made life unbearable. 'They'll bore a hole clean through you before a week has passed,' was the comforting assurance of the wag as they parted at the white house steps. The new consul approached Lincoln with disappointment clearly written all over his face. Instead of joyously thanking the president, he told him the wag's story of the bugs. 'I am informed, Mr. President,' he said, 'that the place is full of vermin and that they'll eat me up in a week's time.' 'Well, young man,' replied Lincoln, 'if that's true all I've got to say is that they will leave a mighty good suit of clothes behind.'"

A DIFFICULT UNDERTAKING.

The Sacramento Bee, which, by the way, is one of the brightest of newspapers, has undertaken the difficult task of getting the light of reason into the jobber's eyes of the Nevada gold press. The Bee asserts the fact that a standard dollar is worth 100 cents. This the gold press disputes, though every sane person in the country knows that it is so. The gold men argue that a standard dollar, the silver in which is now worth about 42 cents, is taken at its nominal value simply and solely because the Government will redeem it in gold. Every intelligent school boy knows better than that, yet the gold men, right here in Nevada where every phase of the financial question has been discussed for years, keep reiterating it, presumably on the principle that a falsehood adhered to is as good as the truth.

Now as to the facts and the law relating to the silver dollar containing three hundred and seventy-one and one-fourth grains of silver. The Act of Congress of April 2, 1792, establishing a mint and regulating the coins of the United States, provided for the coinage of dollars, or unit, each to contain three hundred and seventy-one grains and four-sixteenth parts of a grain of pure silver. The quantity of pure silver in the dollar, or unit, has never been changed and is the same in the standard dollar of to-day as it was in the first silver dollar ever coined in the mint. The Act of March 3, 1849, provided for the coinage of gold dollars, each to be of the value of one dollar, or unit. The Act of September 26, 1890, prohibited the coinage of gold dollars, leaving the silver dollar the unit of value in the coinage laws of the United States.

The silver dollar, being the unit of our monetary system, is not redeemable in gold as our gold friends would have the people believe. It is a legal tender at its face or nominal value for all debts and obligations of the United States. The principal and the interest of the public debt are both payable in silver dollars and greenbacks and Treasury notes are redeemable in silver dollars. The duties on imports and internal revenue license are payable in such dollars. Every obligation of the United States and all public dues are payable in standard dollars. These dollars are not redeemable in gold at the United States Treasury or anywhere else; they are primary money and a legal tender for all debts. The Secretary of the Treasury publicly announced at the time of the panic in 1893 that dollars being primary money, were not redeemable in gold, yet Mr. Hanna's hirelings in Nevada, through ignorance or for the purpose of deceiving the uninformed, assert and reassert that the standard dollar is taken at its face value because the Government is by law required to redeem it in gold.

It is useless for the Bee or any other paper to attempt to reason with the gold press of Nevada. It is paid to promulgate certain falsehoods and it is intent on doing its masters good service by reiterating those falsehoods and ignoring the facts. Though the Bee's sting is sharp and penetrating, the hide of the gold man is as tough as that of the rhinoceros rendering them alike insensible to ridicule and to reason.

MANY SLATES BUT NOTHING ABSENT.

A number of slates are being published as to whom the probable State officers will be at the next election and to give the various prognostications some force, the names of a number of aspirants for the federal positions in the gift of the Republican administration are mentioned as being the chosen ones. Judging from the knowledge displayed by certain people who pretend to be on the inside, an ordinary observer would conclude that an all-around swap had been made, or in other words a kind of "you tickle me and I'll tickle you" proposition was going on. We are not on the inside and of course are not informed as to the program, but we are strongly of the opinion that someone is decidedly off on the State as well as the federal possibilities. In fact this assertion can be made without fear of contradiction, for about one-fifth of the population of the State has been named for positions and there are not enough places to go around, but there are some who seem to think that they have a "dead thing." Another matter that strikes an ordinary observer as comical, if nothing else, is that some of the aspirants for federal appointments were scarcely ever heard of before their names were mentioned for prominent places. In fact it is doubtful whether they have even paid a poll tax for a number of years, yet they base their claims to recognition on the ground that they supported the goldbug platform and stood in with the Hanna combine. In other words they live on the theory that "to the victor belongs the spoils" and as they "stood pat" at the last election, they should receive consideration. It is quite probable, however, that Senators Jones and Stewart and Congressman Newlands will be consulted as regards the claims of the aspirants for these federal appointments and without their approval there is not much likelihood that the application of anyone from Nevada will receive any very great amount of consideration.

CARDWELL IN TROUBLE.

The Franchise of the Meadow Lake Road Attached

It is with regret that we notice that the suspicion, with which the scheming of B. A. Cardwell in the connection with the proposed development of the Meadow Lake mines, was viewed in this county, is sustained by later developments. Where confusion has been reposed in this so-called mine promoter, it appears from the following clipping from the Truckee Republican that the trust has been abused.

John F. Moody says: Yesterday Mr. Freeman, the merchant at Cisco, came down to Nevada City and got out papers to attach the franchise of B. A. Cardwell to run a road between Cisco and Meadow Lake and such other property as he could get hold of. It seems that Cardwell had purchased supplies from Freeman, and owed him $3,400, and seeing no opportunity to get his money, Freeman attached the road. Deputy Sheriff Nagle came up from Nevada City yesterday to serve the papers. Mr. Cardwell has not been in Cisco or at Meadow Lake since he was here a month ago. It also appears that the men who have been working on the road, have been having trouble about getting their wages. No one seems to know where Cardwell is at present.—Sierra Valley Record.

An Extensive Business for Sale.

On account of various matters in which he is interested demanding so much of his attention, R. H. Cowles finds that he cannot devote the proper amount of time to his Grocery Business at Wadsworth and hereby announces he will sell the building at Wadsworth in which is located his General Merchandise Store, the lot on which it stands, a large fire-proof cellar, the stock of goods on hand, the good will, etc. The goods are all fresh, nothing shop worn. The business is a prosperous one and the only reason for selling is to enable Mr. Cowles to give all of his time to other industries in which he is engaged. Wadsworth is the best business town in Nevada to-day and this opening offers a splendid opportunity for some good man to locate in Wadsworth. Call on R. H. Cowles at his store. aug26mol

The recent decision of the Supreme Court of Idaho nullifying a majority of Idaho's laws may result in liberating a large number of convicts now incarcerated in the State penitentiary. Most of the criminals sent up, since 1893 were convicted on information of the District Attorney without a Grand Jury indictment. The act providing for information, passed in 1891, is said to be unconstitutional under the Supreme Court decision, and habeas corpus proceedings will be commenced shortly which may secure freedom for a number of men.

PLANS TO SURPRISE THE WORLD

Germany Preparing a Dazzling Exhibit for the Paris Exposition.

The German government has in course of preparation an exhibit for the Paris exposition of 1900 which is expected to surpass anything of the kind ever attempted by any nation. This statement is made by Consul-General Mason, of Frankfurt, Germany, in a report which reached the state department the other day. "It is intended," Mr. Mason says, "that the exhibit shall be a complete, harmonious picture of the resources and industries of Germany, down to the latest date. Everything is to be collected at home, assorted, adjudged, classified and its position assigned by an imperial commission, so that duplicates and everything trivial and inferior to the best shall be excluded and the whole display presented in its most striking and effective form."

"The exhibit promises to be even a greater surprise than was Germany's at Chicago in 1893, and it will be made and managed for the express purpose of showing the merchants of all civilized nations what Germany has to sell."

Mr. Mason reports that Germany is doing everything possible to extend her commerce, having recently sent commissions to China and Japan and South America for this purpose. Her trade with the United States is being fostered as much as possible and he predicts that Germany will continue to follow this policy in the hope of eventually being the greatest commercial power of the world.

A Barnyard Phenomenon.

The changed conditions of modern society seem to have struck some of the lower orders of animal life. The report comes from the national military home at Marion, Ind., that "a common Shanghai rooster has taken it upon himself to hatch out a brood of chicks and act as mother and protector to them. He 'set' on a nest of eggs the requisite three weeks and hatched out the fluffy chicks in regular fashion, and now he seems to be very proud of his accomplishment. He fondles and protects them after the fashion of a loving and jealous mother. The story of this queer rooster's peculiar act has brought many people to the barns to observe the barnyard phenomenon."

A Decidedly Unmusical But Interesting Performance.

Grant stories are now in order, and one told by a white house attaché recently has probably never been printed before. It was a matter of current history that Gen. Grant did not know how to whistle, nor could he turn a tune if his life depended upon it. On one occasion, says the Chicago Tribune, when an attendant came to deliver cards from a party of callers, he found President Grant sitting at a piano in one of the upper rooms of the white house drumming away with a two-finger exercise. Mrs. Grant was an amused spectator of the general's piano exercises, and neither of them heard the messenger at the door with the visiting cards.

Finally, however, the attendant opened the door, but this did not in the least disconcert the president, who kept on practicing as though he was really enjoying it. "Here are the cards, Ulys," said Mrs. Grant, "of a party of friends whom we invited here this evening. They are anxious to see you, and if you are not too much interested in the piano we will go downstairs in the blue parlor."

"Don't you think you can get along without me this evening?" replied President Grant. "It seems to me this calling business is your affair, and I would a great deal rather play the piano than plunge into the vortex of society."

HE WAS PERPLEXED.

James Felt Unequal to His Unique Task.

The directors of a bank had engaged the services of a watchman, who came well recommended, but did not seem over-experienced. The chairman, says an exchange, therefore, sent for him to post up a bit, and began:

"James, this is your first job of this kind, isn't it?"

"Yes, sir."

"Your duty must be to exercise vigilance."

"Yes, sir."

"Be careful how strangers approach you."

"I will, sir."

"No stranger must be allowed to enter the bank at night under any pretext whatever."

"No, sir."

"And our manager—he is a good man, honest, reliable and trustworthy; but it will be your duty to keep your eye on him."

"But it will be hard to watch two men and the bank at the same time."

"Two men—how?"

"Why, sir, it was only yesterday that the manager called me in for a talk, and he said you were one of the best men in London, but it would be just as well to keep both eyes on you and let the directors know if you hung around after hours."

Decreasing Birth Rates in America.

French economists are consoling themselves for the gradual depopulation of their country, pointing out that many of the American states, including the whole of New England, are still worse off, says the St. Louis Globe-Democrat. The birth rate in France has fallen from 33 per 1,000 at the beginning of the century to 22 per 1,000, and is less than the death rate, so that, if the present conditions continue, in about 200 years the French race will have become extinct. In many of the United States, however, matters are even more serious. The birth rate in Nevada is 16.30 per 1,000, so that, even if no more people should emigrate from that state, its population would die out completely in less than 100 years.

Maine comes next with a birth rate of 17.99 per 1,000, which gives its race about a century longer to exist. New Hampshire is third, with 18.5, and Vermont is fourth, with 18.5, and strange to say, California, which comes next, has a birth rate of 19.4 per 1,000, or nearly 19 per cent. less than that of France.

Stays for Men.

In 1614 stays were introduced into the costumes of gentlemen, to keep the doublet straight and confine the waist.

A Venerated Relic in Springfield, Ill.

Surrounding the courthouse in a county seat within 100 miles of Springfield, Ill., stood for many years a plain board fence. Before it finally disappeared to make way for "park" improvements it had been rebuilt at least twice. At each rebuilding, however, particular care was taken to leave a certain "top board" in exactly the position it had occupied before, not even a new nail hole being made in it.

A stranger, noticing one day this peculiarity in the fence, asked an old citizen, who was leaning against a locust-tree and whittling a stick, if there was any explanation.

"Did the county run out of money," he inquired, "when it had got this fence all finished except one board?"

"No, sir," replied the old citizen, putting his jackknife in his pocket, walking to the fence, and laying his hand on it in a most impressive manner. "This top board is with more'n all the rest of the fence put together, old and rotten as it is."

"Old Abe Lincoln made a speech in this courthouse yard in 1856, and when he was through talkin' he saw an old farmer in the crowd that he used to know when he was a boy, and he came down from the stand and took that old feller out to the fence and talked over old times with him for ten minutes or more, without payin' any attention to the big-bugs that was waitin' to take him off to dinner. And while he talked to him, sir, he rested his right foot on this yere top board. I seen him do it, an' so did 500 other men—an' that board hain't never been disturbed since, an' hain't never goin' to be!"

Saying which, the old man walked back to his position against the locust-tree, took his knife from his pocket again and resumed his whittling.—Youth's Companion.

Carious Facts About the Toad.

The toad lives ten to forty years, does not begin to produce young until the fourth year, but then lays over 1,000 eggs a year. It has lived two years without food, but cannot live long under water. It never takes dead or motionless food. It takes its food by means of its tongue alone, and it operates this so rapidly that the eye cannot follow its motions. It captures and devours bees, wasps, yellow jackets, ants, beetles, worms, spiders, snails, bugs, grasshoppers, crickets, weevils, caterpillars, moths, etc. The stomach that doesn't flinch at yellow jackets, wasps, blister beetles and chick-beetles or pinch bugs would seem to be prepared for anything in the insect line, and it doubtless is. In 24 hours the toad consumes enough food to fill its stomach four times. A single toad will in three months devour over 10,000 insects. If every ten of these would have done one cent damage the toad has saved ten dollars. Evidently the toad is a valuable friend to the farmer, gardener and fruit grower, and can be made especially useful in the greenhouse, garden and berry patch.—Galveston (Tex.) News.

There Was a Cellar to It.

Chicken Bill and Tabor were partners in numerous mining ventures in the mountains in the early days, before the governor became known to fame of a bonanza king, and even was in their several ways helping the other, says the Denver Times. After Tabor had struck it rich and had money to burn, Chicken Bill approached him with a scheme which he represented to be very promising and easily induced him to take some stock in it. Before long the fact developed that Tabor was a minority owner, associated with a number of shady fellows from whom his instinct told him fair play could not be expected. Thoroughly dissatisfied with the deal and incensed at the deception practiced upon him by a man he had so many times befriended, he sought him out and demanded an explanation. "I thought you told me I was on the ground floor in that transaction," angrily shouted Tabor. "Well, you were, Horace," replied Bill, with a characteristic grin. "You were in on the ground floor, just as I told you—but there was a cellar to it."

BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS.

The Steel Cases Again a Subject of Consideration.

The Board of Commissioners met yesterday in regular monthly meeting. A greater portion of the day as well as evening was taken up in considering the claim of the Office Specialty Company against the county for the steel cases in the Clerk's office. Frank Freeman, attorney for the Specialty Company, appeared before the Board and stated that in view of the decision of the Court as to the action of the Commissioners and the fact that the county was using the cases, he had a proposition to offer.

Mr. Freeman then proposed to pay the $482 30, that had been paid to the company, back to the county and leave the cases in position and subject to the use of the county until such time as bids could be advertised for and if the county could do better than the Specialty Company had done or would do in figures and material then the company would remove their property. In the meantime, the company would charge nothing for the use of their property nor the county charge for storage.

After Mr. Freeman had made his offer, Commissioner Hymers moved that the offer of the company regarding the return of the coin be accepted. This was agreed to by Messrs. Hymers and Frazier, Mr. Beck voting no.

It was then proposed by Mr. Hymers that the second part of the proposition, viz: to advertise for bids and make the time ninety days for the consideration and acceptance of proposals and the county be put to no expense for the use of the cases, for the Specialty Company for storage. This motion was made with the idea of arranging matters so that the Clerk would not be inconvenienced and the company required to remove their property immediately. After some discussion, the motion was lost, Mr. Hymers voting aye and Messrs. Beck and Frazier nay.

The condition of affairs now, is that the county has received its money back and has had the use of the cases for something over a year, while the Specialty Company will be required to remove its property forthwith.

Taking the situation as a whole, it is considerably mixed. The Commissioners originally contracted for the cases, passed the four bills, and all but the first were vetoed by the Auditor, the matter was taken to the court and it was decided that the Board had exceeded its authority and acted illegally and now the county has its money back and the Specialty Company is required to remove its property. What new complications will now arise is hard to tell, but it all serves as an object lesson that it is well some times to make haste slowly.

The monthly bills before the Board were not all considered, but will be acted upon to-day and the list will be published in the next issue of the JOURNAL.

A Handsome Souvenir.

Richard Herz has displayed in his window a souvenir silver which is to be presented to P. T. Colgrove, Supreme Chancellor of the world, Knights of Pythias, by the Grand Domain of Nevada. The order for the gavel was passed at the twenty-fifth annual session of the Grand Lodge which met at Elko in June. It is made of native mountain mahogany, mounted with Nevada silver and was made in its entirety by Nevada workmen.

It is elaborately mounted and beautifully engraved. The name of the Grand Lodge, that of the recipient and the date and place of meeting of the grand session are engraved on the silver mounting. The Herz Bros. mounted and engraved the gavel and doubtless Supreme Chancellor Colgrove will not only be proud of the compliment shown him by the Nevada Knights, but will value it as a souvenir of his visit to the Silver State.

Seriously Injured.

Mrs. Evan David of Carson was severely injured Saturday night, the result of being run into by a bicycle. She was crossing the Carson race track while the relay team were practicing and as two wheelmen were coming in at a terrific pace and although the bystanders called to her, she seemed to become confused and as it was nearly dark the riders did not see her. One of them managed to swerve to one side and missed her, but the other struck her with terrible force. She was knocked senseless and a physician was called at once, who found that she had suffered a fracture of the collar bone, her nose broken besides other injuries. The rider was severely cut about the head, but suffered no other damage. One gentleman, from the force of the shock from the fact that the mile had been made in 2:28.

The Commissioners to the International Exposition.

Governor Sadler has appointed and commissioned the following named gentlemen to represent Nevada at the Trans-Mississippi and International Exposition to be held at Omaha, Nebraska, from June 1st to September 1, 1898: W. C. Grimes of Churchill; J. F. Dangleberg, Jr., of Douglas; George Russell of Elko; J. A. Yerington of Esmeralda; Abram Laird of Eureka; J. A. Blossom of Lander; T. J. Osborn of Lincoln; D. C. Simpson of Lyon; Andrew Maute of Nye; John Wagner of Ormsby; James H. Kinkead and Enoch Strother of Storey; J. B. McCullough of Washoe, and William Barke of White Pine.

The Elleford's Big Company will play in Reno during Fair week. It is said to be one of the best theatrical companies on the road.

COMMUNICATED.

Churches, Schools, Society, But Too Busy For Humanity.

JOURNAL—"I say, Miss Blank, do you believe in Christ and the church, and all that sort of thing? 'Cos if you do, I don't," was the question and answer volunteered by an urchin whose span of life cannot exceed a dozen years, in one of the departments of our public school a day or two ago; and I have been wondering ever since if it can be that the spirit of Christ is lacking among us. In this progressive town, town of churches and of schools, are we lacking in that true brotherhood of Christianity that should link all mankind and make each to the other kin.

I am the more moved to ask this question, when I receive a visit from "Pilate Mary" or "Wadsworth Jennie," one or the other of whom comes to me almost daily to report as to poor "Judy's" condition, and to beg for something that may alleviate her sufferings. "Judy" was in the wreck that occurred above Laughton's in the latter part of July, and was previously injured. For two weeks after the accident she lay at the camp east of town, receiving only the little care that her ignorant Indian friends could give her, growing weaker daily and enduring agonies of pain; but asking aid from no one. At the end of that time "Wadsworth Jennie" sought assistance from some former friends of the injured woman. These friends visited her, did what they could for her then, and have continued to do so up to the present time. The JOURNAL kindly gave an account of the case and called for help from the town authorities and the physicians of the town, but called in vain. "Judy" sets there all the time. She no stand up; she no walk. She say all the time she no get well; I don't know, mebbe so bimbeby," Mary reports.

Are there no good Samaritans among our medical men who will so far put themselves out of their way as to go to see the poor suffering creature, and relieve her if it is in their power to do so? There will be neither honor nor money to be gained by doing so; but did not Christ say: "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto the least of these in my name, ye have also done it unto me?"

The Coffin-Woodburn Case.

In the matter of the United States against Coffin and Woodburn, et al., which was decided by Judge Hawley yesterday and in which Coffin claimed $3,000 for services in defending Heney, Coffin has already been paid, and Woodburn, who claimed $6,200, was allowed $2,000, $70 of which has been paid.

It will be remembered that Heney conveyed by mortgage certain property to his attorneys Coffin and Woodburn and presumably would have pleaded poverty to have avoided paying the fine imposed by the Court, as the mortgages covered about the value of the property. Under the present decision, the Judge doubtless concluded that the same would not full compensation for the attorneys' services, and the balance of the amount which the property would bring under sale would pay Heney's fine and also leave a balance for Mrs. Heney.

A Young Lady's Rash Act

Miss Emma Tonsie committed suicide yesterday morning at Gardnerville by taking carbolic acid. A young lady who was rooming with Miss Tonsie had arisen to prepare breakfast and as she left the room, the deceased said: "Leave me the candle," then added, "never mind, I have a match." Later the girl returned to call Miss Tonsie and found her dead. She had taken the acid and died without a struggle. She was well known in Carson and was to have been married next week. She was formerly a member of the Salvation Army.

No reason is given for the rash act and the fact that she had an antidote for the poison at hand makes the affair more mysterious. She had not touched the antidote, however, and her reasons for having it can only be conjectured.

The Funeral Yesterday.

The funeral services of the late Colonel Stanley took place yesterday afternoon and there was a large attendance. General O. M. Mitchell Post, G. A. R., acted as escort.

The public schools were dismissed for the afternoon out of respect to the deceased. Colonel Stanley was formerly a trustee of this district.

The Board of Commissioners also took a recess during the hour of the funeral.

The Jones Hotel at Alta, California, an old landmark on the C. P. R. R., was destroyed by fire yesterday morning.

BREVITIES.

Spiro Francovich of the Wine House carries an excellent stock of goods and his service is especially fine. The celebrated Rubstaller Gilt Edge beer, fresh and cool, is a leading feature of his place.

Yellow fever has broken out at Ocean Springs, Miss. Rigid precautions are being taken to prevent the spread of the disease. A quarantine has been established.

It now looks as if half of Carson will be in Reno next Sunday, to see the relay race and if it goes our way there will be a yell that will wake things up over there.—Carson News.

Owing to the serious outcome of the "rush" at the Berkeley University in which Student Kurtz was so badly injured, the faculty has prohibited any similar demonstration in the future.

The Letter Carriers' special passed through here Sunday afternoon. There were about 200 delegates on the train. They were met at Sacramento yesterday by a committee from the local organization and were escorted to the Baldwin Hotel at San Francisco.

At the Riverside—H. Benedict, Geo. R. Wilson, Paul D. Walsh, San Francisco; Tremor Coffin, James Yerington, Carson; J. J. Allenbach, Ogden; Ross Lewers, Wm. Thompson, Franktown; George D. Pyne, Mrs. Flanningham, Virginia; A. M. Peache, Omaha.

S. Emrich has just finished getting in all of his full stock in dress goods, blankets, underwear, etc. Having succeeded in securing his stock before the Dingley bill went into effect, he saved the new duties on many of his goods and consequently gives his customers the benefit, by low prices.
